

*"Have a song in your heart,
And a smile on your face"*

-Vishal Jajodia

From the editor's desk:

A new wave of female entrepreneurs is moving into position to break down the historic gender imbalance in high-tech entrepreneurship.

What inspires and drives these women? There are many reasons from a great idea, to a lack of fulfillment in their current job, to the excitement of taking a risk to the need to create a work/life balance.

Studies have shown that companies with more women on the board and in senior positions tend to be more innovative and show enhanced financial performance.

"The Pharma Jukebox", in its eight issue tells about why women entrepreneurs are the success stories of global companies in emerging markets.

You don't have to look far to notice the rise of women entrepreneurs. Especially because women entrepreneurs have started to make their mark in a once male-dominated world.

One of the biggest challenges women entrepreneurs have successfully overcome is "juggling between two worlds at the same time-home and office". Women are outstanding relationship-building models, which is essential to running a business for long-term growth and sustainability. Even more far reaching are their skills in taking these very relationships and further developing them to collaborate to directly change the world we live in.

An exceptional women entrepreneur, Ms. Chanda Kochhar, a golden hand behind ICICI bank for its outstanding growth in the recent past. She is presently serving as CEO and MD of ICICI Bank, India's largest Private Sector Bank. She has been selected by Fortune Magazine as one of the most powerful women in India continuously since 2005. Forbes Magazine also listed her in the list of 100 most powerful women in the world.

Swati Spentose Pvt. Ltd (SSPL) has always believed in women empowerment. With a ratio of 48% working team, 90% of them being in top lead positions, SSPL has always shown faith in them, handling successfully departments independently such as veterinary, polysaccharides, steroids and hormones etc.

The inspiring leading role model in this process has been played by Mrs. Swati Jajodia, a sharp visionary and executor par excellence, she has motivated other women in her organization to be the leaders with exemplary execution capabilities.
